

SHELTER FROM THE STORM WORKSHOP

June 21st, Coral Gables, FL

Save the Children is collaborating with the Early Learning Coalition of Miami-Dade/Monroe and local organizations to meet the needs of children following Hurricane Irma.

ZERO TO THREE and Save the Children have partnered to create materials for professionals and parents to support young children affected by natural disasters.

TRAINING OBJECTIVES

- To explore the potential impact of toxic stress from a community disaster on young children ages 0 to 3 years
- To strategize how we can respond to the needs of young children during and following a disaster, especially when behavior may be challenging
- To promote caregiver self-care as a strategy in supporting babies and toddlers during times of distress
- To present new resources developed for use as tools to support young children and their families during and following a disaster

To register, complete the registration form attached and email to Gabriela Schejtman, Coordinator, Psychosocial Support and Protection.
